JORDAN LAWRENCE: A LONG-TERM SOLUTION PARTNER SOMEONE CAN DEPEND ON

For over 30 years, Jordan Lawrence has operated as a world-class professional services provider. As specialists in the fields of data privacy, data minimization, and vendor process risks, Jordan Lawrence serves its customers with an efficiency unmatched in their industry.

THE CHALLENGE

Expertise leads to specialization, and the team at Jordan Lawrence were the foremost experts in their field. This specialization allowed them to imagine a software solution that completely disrupted the entire industry. Being an expert in assessing and mitigating risk pushed the focus of the company away from exceeding in the software development vital to their service offering.

“Technology Partners has amazed me. To this day, our partnership with them is one of the best business decisions we’ve made.”

–Alice Lawrence
CEO, Jordan Lawrence

THE PLAN

With accrued wisdom in long-term business planning, Jordan Lawrence knew that in order to achieve exponential growth, they needed a partner to support their IT initiatives. If they could eliminate the gap between their expertise and their technology by finding a long-term partner for their ongoing integration, they would be able to focus on their differentiators and improve their operation for a long time to come.

THE RESULTS

Jordan Lawrence turned to Technology Partners. Our proven track record of delivery for enterprise clients ensured that the JL team could trust us with their ongoing development. With an emphasis on ‘rate of features for dollar spent’, we were able to competitively outline a sustainable plan for delivery. This has led to a multi-year partnership with both teams working hand-in-hand on a weekly basis to bring first to the industry features and continue to revolutionize risk assessments and mitigation.
