PRESS RELEASE

TECHNOLOGY PARTNERS NAMED LARGEST TEMPORARY/FLEXIBLE STAFFING FIRM IN ST. LOUIS REGION BY ST. LOUIS BUSINESS JOURNAL

St. Louis, MO – February 8, 2021 Technology Partners has been named the largest temporary/flexible staffing firm in the St. Louis metropolitan area in 2021 by the St. Louis Business Journal. The firm recruits highly-qualified information technology talent to augment its clients' staffing needs with technology professionals that deliver exceptional value and expertise. The rankings are based on the revenue derived from temporary/flexible placements in 2020 (from Jan. 1 through Nov. 1).

Over twenty-five years ago, Greg Nichols co-founded Technology Partners with his wife, Lisa, the company's CEO, with one goal: to revolutionize the staffing industry with a business model based on transparency, honesty, and integrity. The goal has been pursued ever since, with emphasis on offering consultants high pay, interesting work and career flexibility.

"Top IT talent is in demand now more than ever as the wake of the pandemic has left us even more so reliant upon technology and integrated systems." said Greg Nichols, President and Co-Founder of Technology Partners. "We're grateful for the opportunity to contribute to positive technological change in our region by serving our staffing clients and IT professionals. Our team thrives on going the extra mile to ensure skill and culture match on each assignment. Being recognized as the largest temporary staffing firm in the St. Louis area is confirmation that these practices are well-received."

Founded as an IT staffing firm, Technology Partners expanded ten years ago to deliver IT solutions that are robust, flexible, scalable and cost-effective. By recruiting the industry's best talent and utilizing the Agile methodology, Technology Partners assembles top-tier teams who deliver best-in-class technology solutions. Solutions that help clients achieve their organizational goals and gain a competitive advantage in the marketplace. Services include custom software development, cloud productivity, data and analytics, and managed IT services.
