PRESS RELEASE

TECHNOLOGY PARTNERS NAMED SECOND-LARGEST SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT FIRM AND FOURTH-LARGEST IT CONSULTING FIRM IN ST. LOUIS REGION BY ST. LOUIS BUSINESS JOURNAL

St. Louis, MO - July 15, 2021 Technology Partners has been named the second-largest software development firm and the fourth-largest IT consulting firm in the St. Louis metropolitan area in 2021 by the St. Louis Business Journal. The rankings are based on the total number of software developers (315) and total local consulting hours billed during 2020.

“Our software development and IT consulting services continue to be growing parts of our business as we expand to deliver more IT solutions to our clients that are flexible, scalable, cost-effective, efficient and productive,” said Greg Nichols, President of Technology Partners. “Our technology teams are personalized for each client to effectively and efficiently manage projects from every angle. At the same time, our tailored IT services and solutions are evolving to include artificial intelligence, managed IT services, cloud productivity, data and analytics, and other services that provide our clients with numerous competitive advantages.”

Technology Partners has received other recognition recently from the St. Louis Business Journal, including being named the Largest Temporary Staffing Firm in the St. Louis

Region in 2020 and the 10th Largest Woman Owned Business in St. Louis in 2019. The publication also included Technology Partners CEO and co-founder, Lisa Nichols, in its 2020 list of Most Influential Business Women in the St. Louis Region.
